MORALE OF CREWS:

Morale is waning. The crew was staging at ICP waiting most of the day. Due to the size of their bus, C-18 is unable to act as an IA crew and be assigned to the field. Part of the crew did help the district a few hours with some light duty tasks.

INJURIES:

None –

MESSAGE: For future planning and efficiencies – this T2IA crew needs to have adequate transportation. The receiving unit should better plan and have transportation ready. A T2IA cannot function when their transportation to the fireline is in a bus. The skills and training of this crew has not been realized due to inadequate transportation. Inevitably this affects morale, as the firefighters traveled cross country to help with firefighting.
